MORE STUDENTS WANTED FOR THE NORMAL SCHOOL

Students will be admitted to Normal Schools up to Sept. 15th

The Normal School opened two days ago and while there has been a gratifying response to the Government offer to lend money sufficient to pay all the costs of the Normal School training for all who are not able to furnish themselves there is still room at both Calgary and Camrose for students to enter. In the two days more than sixty students who had not thought of taking the course have secured their government loans and entered on the work. Enrollment now stands at 240. The Minister of education is anxious that the opportunity of securing a loan shall not be withheld from any young man or young woman in the province of Alberta who has the necessary high school training to gain admission to the teaching profession. Realizing that it takes some little time to inform the people of the entire Province of a new departure of this kind. The Minister has decided that application for loans will be considered and students admitted to the normal schools up to Monday morning Sept. 15th. This should give every one ample opportunity to make a decision. The amount of money which may be loaned to any student will not exceed $400.00. Many students are undertaking to finish the course at much less application running as low as $200.00 in some cases. The money repayable to the Government over a period of two years dating from the close of the normal school term. It should not be forgotten that teachers salary has wonderfully increased in the last year or two. There is a very rapidly increasing number of attractive positions offered to the teaching profession. Young people can have no more valuable asset than a life certificate as a teacher, which may open up innumerable opportunities to them. The future of the teaching profession is very bright and in addition to the certainty of a profitable occupation there is unlimited opportunities for the most important life of social and national service.

There should not be an empty seat in either the Normal Schools in this province by Sept. 15th.

Geo. F. Smith,
Minister of Education.

Proposed Memorial Hall

Plans are now under way for the raising of $300,000 for the purpose of erecting a memorial hall and club rooms for returned soldiers of Calgary. The project having been discussed thoroughly at a meeting of citizens last week. It is indeed gratifying to see that many public spirited citizens and various organizations are interested themselves in the proposal, and are willing to co-operate in the erection of a permanent memorial to the boys who "did their bit" and paid the supreme sacrifice, as well as affording a club for those who were spared to return.

Since proposal was first made there has certainly been no lack of interest, and several prominent business men have shown their willingness to do all in their power to help raise the required money for the erection and equipping of a home for the returned veteran which will also be a memorial for those who will never return.

What Is Back of Your Purchase

BACK of every pair of shoes you buy there are certain standards of manufacture—certain ideals of business conduct. They may be high standards or low; they may be publicly made known or carefully concealed. But they are there, and upon them depends the satisfaction which you receive from your purchase.

The manufacturer's trade mark stamped upon a shoe is a guarantee of standards high enough to bear inspection. It is a sign of the maker's confidence in his own product: an assurance of quality which is high enough to be publicly acknowledged.

Look for the manufacturer's trade mark on the shoes you buy. It is your best assurance of style and comfort, and of good value for the price you pay.

A Short History of Rimby Written by Katie Loretta Adams

Day was drawing to a close, the sky was covered with great fleeces of crimson; on the broad flowing river was a reflection of rose colored glare, left by the last rays of the setting sun.

It is this and more that makes the Western Country such a world of mystery and of wonder.

As we walked along, through Brooklands Valley, marvelling at the beauty of it, we came upon an Indian encampment not a great distance from us in the clearing.

An old grey-haired Cree came out of the tent to meet us, and informed us that they were only coming for overnight. In the morning they would again start on their way to Buck Lake.

We asked him if they didn't get tired of those long journeys made back and forth from Buck Lake so often.

"No," says he, "we no get tired, Indian like them; but long before white man come we came more often, and had better times than now."

"Come in," says he, "and I will tell you of the trips we took in those days when the Red Man resided."

"I also will tell you how the town you now live in became to be where it is, and why it is called Rimby."

"We were all looking for land to build houses on and settle in the new west. Among the different passengers were four families of Rimby's who were very anxious to homestead."

"They were the wife of an old prospector, along the Blind Man and offered to show them where it was."

"On the first day of April 1903 I was down at the station with father Lacombe, in Lacombe, when an immigrant train pulled in from the south with 38 passengers on it."

would help them get a church started. He is Rimby's pioneer minister.

But many were the hardships endured by those hardy pioneers. The land was all covered with willows and trees, and they only had a few farm implements among them.

But they all helped one another until Rimby started to become a town. It did not know how they got along now, because I don't go there often anymore.

As we walked home, in the gathering twilight, our thoughts were each of the little town we were approaching. In this year, 1913, Rimby is gradually becoming one of the busiest and largest towns in the west. This year will see the completion of a railroad from Lacombe.

Where once it took a week to come from Lacombe with oxen, it only takes two hours with a car. Where once the buffalo and deer ran wild we now see nothing more ferocious than the gopher.

We who look back to the year 1900, when the Red Man was Lord of the Plain, smile as we think, in this new era, of some poor Indian sitting in front of his teepee, wishing himself ruler again.

We recall these words in "The Indian's Tale of Woe."

"Far from the white man's habitation Under the Northlands smiling sun, Where like a huge wave rolling down, Mountain and plain blend into one, There where the shadows and sun-beams meet, Once was the home of the Great Blackfeet. The home of a tribe once rich and strong That ruled o'er their country well and long,

But as kings even bow to the hand of fate That makes brave hearts as desolate,

As the barren sands of a sea-girt isle, So bows the Red Man and yet the while In his inmost soul he never yields,

But curls the passion his spirit feels, And transits to Manitou, Oar of Men To place him back on his throne again."

Rimby is Growing

Rimby has been handicapped more than any other place in the province; but in spite of the fact that for the past twenty-five years the country has been settled with a progressive lot of farmers and business men, up until a few months ago the people of the fertile Rimby Valley had to haul their goods right through to Lacombe—a distance of over thirty-five miles to the railway. Taking this fact into consideration, Rimby deserves to feel proud of its achievements. There is no place in Alberta that can boast of better tilted farms or more prosperous settlers. All the farmers in the beautiful valley are "on an easy street," so to speak, and the many fine farm buildings testify to this fact.

With the advent of the railway, the contract for the completion of which to Rimby is set for November 1st, the greatest drawback to the rapid development of this district will be removed, and we predict that within a year the town of Rimby will rank among the largest towns in the province.

Rimby is blessed with a lot of boosters—in fact every business man in town is a booster, and visitors are greatly surprised to see a well built town where they expected at best to see a little country village.

Nearly every line of business is represented in Rimby, and all are doing a good and increasing trade. Among the business establishments are:

2 Garages

Butcher Shop

Cremery

2 Confectionery Stores

2 Departmental Stores

2 Hotels

Livery and Feed Stables

Blacksmith shop, Lumber Yard, Drug Store

Auto Tire and Vulcanizing Shop

3 Real Estate Offices

Barber Shop

Implement Warehouses

Contractors and builders.

Telephone Exchange

Printing Office.

There is also a public and High School, three churches, Public Hall, a resident doctor, in fact everything that goes to make up a modern town.

The Village is governed by a progressive council, who see that everything tending to its development is attended to. It is composed of Frank Symonds, Reeve; Wm Brooks and M. L. Frizzell, Councillors, with Joseph Renshaw, Sec. Treas.

The School Board has for its officers:

A new Tariff issue

The Calgary Herald says:

The sugar buyer for L. T. Mewburn, said that while there was a little sugar on hand and now and then a small shipment coming in, it was a more drop in the bucket. He thought that there was every prospect that the shortage would continue until well into the fall. The trouble had begun in the first place with the dock strike in Vancouver when the raw materials were diverted to Seattle instead of going to B. C. refineries. Then the dock strike in New York had made matters still worse as it had tied up the eastern sugar manufacturers.

The dock strike in Vancouver diverted Vancouver sugar to Seattle. But a dock strike in New York did not divert New York sugar to Montreal or Halifax. The more the sugar shortage is discussed the more evident it is that the shortage is not the result of the law of supply and demand but of direct interference with that law, by the sugar barons who own the refineries.

By their rapacity they have made the sugar duties a leading tariff issue.

Dominion Govt. to Discuss Gratuities With Veterans

Calgary, Aug. 30.—The Dominion government has consented to meet in conference on the matter of soldier's gratuities, with the members of the commission named by the Dominion command of the veterans.

Last evening G. W. Wattell, vice president of the Calgary branch of the G. W. V. A. and one of the members of the commission on gratuities left for Ottawa, having been called there by the government, together with the other members of the commission to discuss the gratuities question.

Just what will result from this conference, is difficult to say, but it is almost certain that some definite scheme of gratuity will be evolved, and that the veterans of the war will receive a set amount in each a regular pension.

What the amount will be and whether it will be given in a lump or extended over a period of months, remains to be seen.

It is understood that the government has already tentatively made an offer to the returned soldiers of $500 or $600, but this, it is certain will not be accepted. It is also understood that it has been proposed that the payments should be made in the form of small sum each month and spread over several months. All this however, has only been in the nature of feelers by the government and no definite offer has been made, and will be made until the commission meets.

It is understood that Mr. Wattell has outlined a definite proposition of his own which he will present to the commission and the government, and also that he has obtained considerable support for his proposal which is stated to be that the soldiers should receive $1200 gratuity.

The fact that the commission has been called to Ottawa to meet the government is the first indication that the government is giving serious consideration to the gratuity question, and lends encouragement to the veterans to expect that a satisfactory settlement will be reached at once.

Lavesta

"Men may come and men may go," but the world moves on as of old. Messrs. Bergen and Holmstrom have sold their personal belongings, and left Lavesta, their place has been taken by Mr.
Brothwick. We speed the parting guest and welcome the new.
Mr. and Mrs. Bergen and Mr.
Holmstrom made many friends and their stay among us was all too short. May their future home be pleasant.

All indications point to a good harvest for Lavesta and vicinity.
There has been some danger from hail to the south and north, but so far, the crops in this immediate neighborhood are uninjured.

Farmers are busy cutting their hay. The crop is light owing to the dry spell through June, but an abundant crop of straw will carry the stock over the winter.

Just now the good housewives are worrying about the scarcity of sugar. When Saskatoon, raspberries and other fruits are abundant, the sugar man must go on strike. Let us hope that scarce rations of fruit for the coming winter may teach him better manners next time.

Our new organ has been installed in the schoolhouse, and while not noted for its good looks, when the question of sound comes up,

Triple Tragedy Near Ledue.

The death of three men took place under tragic circumstances on Thursday. The story is. The men were engaged in digging well.
When they reached the depth of twenty-five feet from the surface the boring appliances entered a seam of coal from which gas fumes came in such volumes as to ultimately take the lives of all three men on the task, namely, Olson, and two Nieman's, father and son.

But one man was in the bottom of the well when the fumes began to belch forth. He shouted and waited, and the two men on the surface heard him. Knowing that something was amiss, one decided to go to the other's aid. He had no sooner reached the bottom when he too was overcome and was gasping for air and shouting for life.
Here, the last of the three, still on the surface decided that his duty was to aid his comrades. He started down the ladder to render assistance and had reached a depth of a few yards, when, overcome by the fumes, lost his hold and fell to his death with his friends. All three lost hold on life in a few minutes.

Drop Occurs in Hog Prices

Chicago, Aug. 28.—That $15 hog $150 nearer the slender purse of high cost of living victim, made its appearance in Chicago yards today.

His advent was immediately followed by a slump in provisions as well as live cattle and sheep. Meat products on the board of trade decreased sharply in price but the declines were not evident in the retail market.

Corn and oats felt the effect of hog and provisions decline, but butter, eggs and poultry in large or small amounts were unaffected by the stock yards drop.

A continuance of the decline in live hog prices was looked for by traders who pointed out that 13-000 of the 25,000 animals received at the stock yards today were unsold and that 15,000 more were expected tomorrow. Cattle of the higher grades were 2 cents less per hundredweight and sheep and lambs were fully fifty cents cheaper.

The drop in hog prices was the greatest since 1907 and traders who look for still lower figures pointed out that eastern storage houses are believed to be already crowded with meat products, leaving only a domestic outlet.

Boys' and Girls' Club

In an effort to stimulate interest among the boys and girls of the district, the Union Bank of Canada proposes starting what is known as a Boys and Girls Club.
Any boy or girl of sixteen or under is eligible and the plan is briefly as follows:

The bank will advance sufficient money to any Boy or Girl to purchase a calf, or a pig or a lamb, taking the Boys or Girls Note for the amount without any further security. The animals are to be fed and attended to by the Boy or Girl and suitable prizes will be given by the bank at the annual Agricultural show for the best animals in each class.

The bank feels that a great deal of benefit may be attained, both for the Boys and Girls, as well as for the district and wishes to have the name of every boy or girl who wishes to join the club. Let the boys or girls either call and see Mr. Graham or have their parents do so as soon as possible so that the club may be started at once.

"Some Want Ad"

A German farmer lost his horse and wanted to advertise it. The editor asked him what he wanted to say. "Yust put it vat I told you," replied the man. "One nite
the uler day about a week ago last month I heard me a noise by the front middle of the pae yard which did not used to be. So I jumps the ped and runs mit ther door and ven I see I finds my pig grey iron mare he was tied loose, running mit der stable off.
Whosever prings him pak shall pay five dollars reward." Exchange.

It's Up to You!

Why should you go through life with half sight, or poor vision? The other day I fitted a man with glasses who had gone through life so near sighted that he could not recognize a friend across the street. This man had never know the joy of clear vision, and it was a pleasure to see his delight when he viewed distant objects for the first time.

Then there is a person who has a headache after reading for a short time. It is more painful that the near sighted condition, but yields equally when proper glasses are worn. If you are having trouble with your eyes, have them tested.

Lacombe Creamery

There is just one reason why Canadian butter cannot dominate the World's Markets. That reason is "Quality" the control of which is in the hands of the producer and the Buttermaker. If the cream producers will patronize their local Creameries, where immediate manufacture takes place, quality, lower cost of production and consequently. Higher Prices to the Cream Producers is the result.

Will Grant Students at Normal Loans.

Elsewhere in this paper there appears an advertisement headed in by the Department of Education of the provincial government, announcing that loans will be provided by the government sufficient to finance any students who have the acquired high school standing and who desire to attend the normal schools to train as teachers.

The Hon. Geo. P. Smith, minister of education, explains that this policy appears to be necessary in order to make sure that the classes may be filled to capacity. The term of professional training is being increased from four to eight months. This means that each normal school will turn out one class in a year instead of two and unless the classes are filled to the maximum the supply of teachers, which is already limited, will be greatly reduced. The extra cost for the longer term is one great reason for the difficulty which the department is experiencing in securing a large enrolment.

Mr. Smith is also of the opinion that the longer term of training must be introduced as he considers it essential that the standards of the teaching profession should be raised. Better trained teachers will mean more successful and therefore more contented teachers and the result will be that they can be held longer in the profession.

The policy of the state lending money for such a purpose is new but public funds cannot be used for any better purpose than in turning out an adequate supply of well trained teachers to assist in the education of the best type of Canadian citizenship among our young people.

Students who wish to avail themselves of assistance offered by the government, must appear in person at the Normal School at which they intend to train not later than Friday next.

Grocers Deny Rise in Sugar Prediction.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—With reference to an Ottawa despatch of August 23 stating that the wholesale grocers in their convention at Ottawa, had predicted that sugar would raise to 20 cents a pound before the present shortage would be relieved, Hugh Blain, president of the wholesale grocers' association of Canada, said today: "There must be some mistake about this, as no discussion was taken as to what the price of sugar was likely to be. It was, however, stated to the convention that speculators in the United States had bought fifty cars of granulated sugar, held in Halifax at the regular Canadian price, but had resold to other speculators in the United States and was now offered at $13.90 at Halifax to the dominion government and I believe a few cars were bought at this price."

"The convention generally felt that to buy sugar at such a figure might have the effect of creating an advance on all sugars which would be most unfortunate."

"It was also felt that selling this sugar would have the appearance of profiteering, even if sold again at cost, because sugar is sold today in Montreal to the wholesale trade at $10.40 and $10.50 with the usual discount off, and is re-sold to the retail trade at these figures with the freight added."

"The shortage in sugar has been caused entirely through the lack of shipping facilities, owing to the marine strike, which prevented refiners from getting raw sugar, and if shipping facilities can be restored to normal conditions without further delay, we should get supplies of refined to meet our requirements within the next 30 to 60 days."

"I would like to warn the public against buying sugar beyond their pressing requirements, because hoarding sugar is certainly going to increase the price to the consumer."

ers, who will be in want, besides depriving the rest of the public from getting their fair share of what sugar is to be had. Every wholesale and retail grocer should furnish their customers with the smallest quantity of sugar they can get along with, until sugar becomes more plentiful."

Having completed my new building I am prepared to sell meats, lards, etc., as before. I have purchased T. Thorps interest in the Lacombe Meat Market and in future this department of my business will be run under the name of the Lacombe Meat Market with Chas. Nile as manager. ## Few Men Desire to Undertake

The proper administration of an Estate is no easy task. If put on the shoulders of an individual, it demands an amount of time and care that few business men can willingly spare from their own affairs; moreover should anything happen to the individual before the Estate is settled, confusion, litigation and delay, with accompanying loss, frequently result. The Trust Company specializing in the administration of property is the logical answer to the question of whom to name as your Executor.

Borden Delivers The Message Of Canada To Prince

Ottawa—The address of welcome from the Canadian people to the Prince of Wales on the occasion of his visit to Ottawa today was as follows:

Address of the Canadian People To the Prince.

The address on behalf of the government and people of Canada was signed by the premier Sir Robert Borden and Hon. Martin Burrell, secretary of state. It reads as follows:

"May it please your royal highness—

"On behalf of the government and people of Canada we tender to your royal highness our loyal and cordial welcome. Our people have proud and happy memories of the visit of our beloved sovereign and of his illustrious father, the late King Edward. We confidently anticipate that the results of your visit will strengthen the ties of devotion which bind our people to the crown and person of his gracious majesty.

"The association of your royal highness with our forces in the great conflict from which the British empire and her allies have victoriously emerged is a matter of deepest satisfaction to our people. This comradeship in arms in a world wide struggle for the preservation of justice and liberty has established a peculiar bond of affection and sympathy between your royal highness and this Dominion which will never be severed.

"The notable development of the status of the great dominions has tended to strengthen the influence of the crown in binding together all the nations of the empire, through the tie of a common allegiance in which the united purpose and endeavor of all the British peoples find effective expression.

"We rejoice that you have taken this early opportunity after the cessation of hostilities, to visit the portion of our empire, and we hope that the opportunity thus offered to your royal highness of intimate acquaintance with our people, and with the resources and conditions of our country, will prove not only of interest but of real and permanent value to you in the performance of the exalted duties which under Divine Providence you may be called upon to discharge."

An address was also presented on behalf of the citizens of Ottawa by Mayor Fisher.

The Prime Minister replied as follows:

"Mr. Prime Minister and Gentlemen—

"I am deeply grateful for the cordial terms of your address and for your warm expression of your loyalty to the crown and person of my father the King. I have not yet been a fortnight in Canada, but the greeting already given me exceeds my highest anticipations, and I shall be proud to tell his majesty on my return how kindly I was welcomed as his representative in this great Dominion.

"I am also much touched by your kind reference to my small service as a junior officer during the great war. I can assure you that I value that experience chiefly for the close association into which it brought me with brother officers and men from all parts of the empire.

"You have spoken, Mr. Prime Minister, of allegiance to the crown as the expression of that common devotion to British institutions and British ideals which unites all the people of the empire. I am conscious that this lays upon me, as his majesty's heir, a very grave and also a very inspiring responsibility. I therefore greatly prize the opportunity which you have given me of seeing a part of this great Dominion for myself, making a real acquaintance with its people and acquiring a first-hand knowledge of its splendid prospects and resources. Canada has played a signal part in the struggle for freedom, which has so keenly tested the vision and manhood of the empire during the past five years, and I believe that she can now look forward to rapid increasing power, both moral and material, as one of the great nations of the British commonwealth. It will be my constant endeavor to share her hopes and feelings and to deserve her confidence."

In reply to the address of the city of Ottawa, the Prince of Wales said:

"Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen—

"You have termed me an 'affectionate' I thank you for that word since it also describes my own feelings toward the people of Canada, who have greeted me everywhere since my arrival with a kindness that I can never forget. This is the heart capital of the Great Dominion, and I should like to express through you, Mr. Mayor, my sincere and lasting gratitude for the reception which the great eastern cities of Canada have given me.

"I am touched by the warmth of your reference to the king and queen, and I will not fail to tell their majesties on my return of this city's appreciation of their work and example during the great war. You have also mentioned, too kindly my own service at the front. I regard that service as small indeed by comparison with the service and sacrifice of all ranks in his majesty's forces, and I can never adequately express either my deep appreciation of their gallantry or my profound sympathy with those who suffered loss and disablement."

The Cost of News Print

The largest item of cost in producing a newspaper are print paper and wages. A dispatch of Thursday morning announces that by an appealed decision the newspapers are entitled to a refund of the amount that by a decision of last October, they were compelled to pay over and above the original price for the paper supplied them from July 1st to Nov. 1st, 1918. This welcome news—if it turns out to be true.

War conditions had increased the world demand for Canadian made newsprint. This was of course, followed by an increase of price. As per usual the price to consumers was placed—or attempted to be placed—at a price equal to the export price with duty and freight charges added. As the export price had soared because of war property in the United States the proposed increase of cost to Canadian papers would have put a large proportion of them out of business. They were publishing under war conditions following a collapsed boom, and could not by any possibility have stood the strain. They appealed to the government for protection and the minister of finance, taking the matter in hand, fixed a price at which Canadian paper mills must sell to Canadian newspapers. This condition was established before and continued during and for some time after the 1917 elections.

It may be mentioned in this connection that the making of news print in Canada is essentially an export industry, over 80 per cent. of the total make going out of the Dominion.

In 1917 pressure was brought by the paper makers on the government and R. A. Pringle, K. C. was appointed a commissioner to go into the merits of the case and decide as to the future price to be paid by Canadian newspapers. His decision rendered in October 1918, gave the paper makers a largely increased price. He not only gave them the increase but he made the decision retroactive to the end of the previous June. As a result the newspapers which during July, August and September had been buying, paying for and selling their paper at a certain price were suddenly called upon to pay a large additional amount for the paper so used and sold during those three months.

An appeal was taken. Another commission was appointed and this commission has decided that the extra payment above mentioned must be refunded. They have also decided that the refund shall include October, no doubt on the principle that the newspapers should have some notice of the change in price. The commission has also reduced the future price by $3 a ton, or slightly over 4 per cent. This is not a very large reduction from the Pringle price of $69 a ton; but it is much better than the increase to $80 a ton asked by the paper makers.

News print paper which cost $35 per ton at the end of 1918 has been costing $62 a ton or practically double for the past year will under the recent decision cost $66 a ton; an advance of 90 per cent. over the 1916 price.

Gen. Louis Botha S. Africa, Is Dead

Pretoria, Union of S. Africa, Aug. 28—General Louis Botha, premier and minister of agriculture of the Union of South Africa died suddenly this morning after an attack of influenza.

Louis Botha was born in Greytown, Natal in 1863 and was a member of the first volkraad of Transvaal, in which he represented the district of Vryheid. At the beginning of the Boer war in 1899 he was joint cornet for that district. Joining the Boer forces in the first of the Boer wars, he soon rose to high command. He was in charge of the Boer forces at the battle of Colenso and Spion Kop and following the death of General P. J. Joubert he was made commander-in-chief of the Transvaal Boers. After the fall of Pretoria he reorganized the Boers with a view to a prolonged guerrilla warfare, his forces offering steady resistance to the British up till late in 1901.

Following the peace negotiations between the Boers and the British, Gen. Botha took a leading role in the period of reconstruction. After grant of self-government to the Transvaal in 1907, General Botha was called upon to form a government. At the outbreak of the great war in 1914 General Botha took command of the Union forces in southwest Africa, achieving a complete success and compelling the German troops in that region to surrender. With General Jan Christian Smuts, General Botha signed the peace treaty with Germany on behalf of the Union of South Africa, June 28th last. He arrived at Cape Town from Europe on July 28.

Bad Business

It is unfortunate that the statements of some western wheat growers concerning the marketing of this years crop were cable to England. Thereby a decidedly wrong impression has been given to the people of the motherland. J. B. Musselman, secretary of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, is one of the men who would have been glad to see the government keep its hands out of the wheat-selling game this year, in the hope that on the open market the price might have been run up to something greater than has been. His observations are being commented on by British grain men.

According to a special London correspondent, they are wondering if the Musselman sentiment is prevailing sentiment throughout the Canadian west, and are asking if Canadian wheat growers are really willing to grasp the last dollar this year out of Europe's dire necessity. The Globe is sure the people of Britain would be making a mistake if they were to regard Mr. Musselman's statements as indicative of general Canadian feeling.

While there are some wheat growers in the west who would be pleased to see wheat prices advanced to fabulous figures, regardless of how much the purchasing public would suffer. The majority of the wheat men are asking only that they shall be guaranteed a fair profit on their year's investment. Critics of the government in connection with the purchase of the 1919 crop has, for the most part, been based on the contention that the initial payment suggested was too small; also that the cost of marketing under government auspices would be greater than under the open market practice.

Now that the initial payment has been fixed at $2.15 a bushel, and assurance is given that marketing charges will figure out only a fraction of a cent per bushel, the criticism has ceased. It would be well if the agency that called the Musselman story across the water would take the trouble to correct the false impression it seems to have conveyed. Canadians have no desire to grow rich on the misfortunes of their brothers overseas.

Titan Tractors

Ask your neighbor who owns one, just what he thinks of his 10-20 Titan Tractor. The extra amount of plowing done last fall, the new land he was able to put under cultivation during the summer, the complete satisfaction that the tractor has given him, is the best recommendation we can give you. Remember, the Titan is strictly a coal oil burning engine (cheaper fuel), that it runs 500 revolutions per minute (longer life), that its draw bar pull is 4 horse power more than its rating, (more power), it is backed by the Harvester Co., with its repair system, and their trained agents (the best possible service). And the price ($1150). Yes that's the price, eleven hundred and fifty dollars. See us about one; we will be glad to demonstrate to you in any way.

Bentley News

Duck shooting was indulged in quite freely by the local sportsmen on Monday. Mr. De Grof, the game warden set the pace by bagging 30 before 8 a.m. The ducks are plentiful and a very good size.

The first real frost arrived on Monday night when it was bad enough to hit even the high spots on the hill tops. Some grain will be damaged, but we must expect frost in Sept. Last year the frost came on the second of Sept. A great quantity of grain is already cut. Alfred Haarstad finished his crop (230 acres) on Saturday. Edward Haarstad finished on Wednesday and John Holman on Aug. 25th. We understand that several up the valley have finished. Many more are on the home run. The reports are that the yield will be splendid and a fair crop of straw. Once again this part of Alberta has proven to be a good place to farm and live.

School opened on Tuesday morning with 19 in attendance in the senior room and 27 in the junior room. There will be quite a fall before register before the week is out. Miss Nilles and Miss Hobbs are in charge again. Miss Hobbs has just returned from a trip to the coast and Miss Nilles has spent the latter part of the vacation with her sister, near Lacombe.

All the students which wrote on the Departmental Exams (Grades 8, 10, and 11) from the Bentley School, passed, save one. This is a very satisfactory record.

It is unfortunate that the year has passed without any move being made towards a new school building. This is very badly needed. For several years now, the senior classes have been conducted in the old log church without any cost to the ratepayers. It serves the purpose as well perhaps as any other quarters that could be secured in the village, but cannot, by the greatest stretch of imagination, be called a satisfactory class room. It is to be hoped that the ratepayers will demand a new and comfortable school for next fall and that they will give their utmost support to the school board in such an enterprise.

The village presents a lively appearance these days. Building operations are in evidence every direction. The "Co-op" store building has grown to a three story building. Messrs. Weise and Williams began work on the foundation of the new hall on Monday morning. Mr. Bolton is unloading a carload of lumber on Tuesday for his residence and the work on the foundation has commenced.

Mr. Woolgar is plastering Mrs. Thorp's cottage and building his own house. Mr. D. B. Palmer is renovating the old hall which he recently purchased from Mr. McPherson. We trust this condition of affairs will continue for some time. We were talking to a gentleman the other day who lives on the "Rim" of things in this valley and he said "oh Bentley will never amount to anything." Well now let's go to it and show him. Any way, Bentley didn't have any hail this year.

The Post Office inspector dropped in the other day and found everything to Kings' taste around the local office.

Nearly everybody took in the Stampede last week. Some are enthusiastic and others are cold in their comments upon the events of the fair. Some stayed a week and others a couple of hours. But it takes all kinds of people to make a world.

Mr. W. A. Hankins has rented his farm to his son, Charles and is going to Montana to look round for a possible home.

Mr. Dan McLeod of Kerrobert, Sask. was a visitor in town this week looking for land.

Mr. Bolton has rented the cottage belonging to Mrs. John Ellisworth, and moved in on Labor day.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hay, of Calgary motored up for the week end and visited with Mrs. C. F. Dunlop.

The official Board of the Bentley Church Circuit met at the parsonage on Monday night and reviewed the work of the last four months. This meeting passed a resolution committing the circuit to independent action. Last year the missionary Society of the Methodist Church contributed $300 to the support of the church at Bentley. The action of the board will make the circuit self-supporting; that is, provided the people of the community rally to the support of the officials financially.

WHY DREAD OLD AGE?

It should be the pleasantest time of life and if coupled with good health it is. Many of our most remarkable men and women have won fame and prominence after reaching the sixties, and in lots of cases they have not been robust in youth.

The secret of health in old age is the prevention of bowel disorder. Constipation is the foe to be dread. Care in diet is necessary, also the avoidance of harsh cathartics, which only aggravate the trouble.

The ideal laxative for aged people is Chamberlain's Tablets

Leslie Grossmith

Begone Dull Care
Laugh Extractor Coming

Mr. Leslie Grossmith one of the most wonderful entertainers to tour western Canada is to appear at the Opera House Lacombe on Monday September 15th. Those who were fortunate enough to hear Mr. Grossmith last March at the Presbyterian church will be eager to listen to another change of programme, and those who have not yet heard him must not miss this opportunity or the loss will be regrettable. Mr. Grossmith is not only a musician of the highest attainments, whose talent the world of art has acknowledged with honors, but he also enjoys the distinction of being known as a laugh extractor, will draw from his audience more laughs than a whole company of comedians could do. In addition to his varied offering of sketches, Monologues, funny stories, new jokes, humorous songs, dramatic readings, character impersonating and wonderful piano solos, Mr. Grossmith will be supported by the Versity Trio of musicians. This is a triple team of talented youths who will delight their hearers with violin solos, of a popular and attractive nature, cello solos, of Melodie beauty such as can be given only by that beautiful of all instruments and carefully manipulated piano accompaniments.

If this were all it would be more than enough, but there is to be a dance for the pleasure of the young people attending the concert. The music of the dance will be provided by a special orchestra. Those who fail to attend this genuine treat are going to miss the finest offering likely to be presented this season.

Card of Thanks

Mr. W. Hankins and family wish to thank their many friends for the many kindnesses shown them in their recent bereavement. They wish to especially thank those who kindly donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

Two Canadian "Sirs"

Sir Robert Borden's selection of Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Railway Commission, to succeed Sir Thomas White as minister of finance in his reconstructed cabinet will perhaps not cause any remarkable display of enthusiasm in Western Canada. But to those who are familiar with the careers of Sir Henry and Sir Thomas, the appointment will illustrate once more that this is a democratic country.

Both the ex-minister of finance and his successor were clerks in the neighboring offices in the old city hall in Toronto twenty years ago. "Tom" White was a clerk in the assessment department. He compiled assessment rolls walking to and fro in the streets of the Queen City counting empty stores in the evil days following the bursting of one of Toronto's earlier booms. Between times he studied law.

Harry Drayton held down a stool in the city solicitor's office, and when the dullness of his tasks became overpowering he would drop into the adjoining office to see if Tom was resting his feet after an assessing journey. If this proved to be the case, they would swap yarns or spend a pleasant half hour discussing civic politics with a stray reporter.

If the reporter could have told them that both would be knighted and both would occupy the honorable position of finance minister of Canada, would they not have laughed him to scorn?

And yet because this is a democratic country wherein subordination officials in any old tumble-down city hall can climb to giddy heights of power, both of these jolly clerks have arrived.

But perhaps the best example of climbing as far as the habitation of Toronto's old city hall are concerned was the rise of Rolands Harris to greatness. "Rollie," as he was then called, was the son of a widowed junitress of the city hall. He was a fat, good-natured young man who used to distribute blotting pads to the aldermen at committee meetings and make him self generally useful. No one could see that life held out much promise for "Rollie." But he fooled everybody. He had wonderful executive ability and was a mechanical genius to boot. He started in as a clerk in the city commissioners office and today he is the brainiest, the most powerful, and we rather think the best-paid official in the new city hall of Toronto. His salary is probably greater than that which Sir Henry Drayton will command at Ottawa and his career is even more remarkable. The only thing he lacks is a knight-hood. But he will never win that now, and his consolation must be that without it he is, after all, the truest democrat of the three.

Stone-Scott

A quiet wedding took place at the Methodist Parsonage in Newmarket Ont., by the Rev. W. L. Lawrence, brother in law of the bride when Miss Margaret Scott of Inglewood became the bride of Bertrand Stone, of Huntsville.

The drawing room was tastefully decorated with roses and Chrysanthemums, and the bride who was given away by her father, wore a navy blue silk suit, French hat, ostrich stole, and wore the groom's gift, a pearl necklace and wrist watch.

Mrs. W. L. Lawrence, sister of the bride played the wedding march.

After a buffet luncheon the happy couple left for a holiday on the Muskoka Lakes.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rodwell from Lockhart Alta, grand parents of the bride.

Airmar Stanbol

A fatal accident happened about three miles east of Millet on Saturday last, when a team of horses ran away with Airmar Stanbol, while he was on a mower, and he was dragged over a mile, the team finally reaching the barn where they stopped. He was very severely cut by the mower, and lived only a few hours, never regaining consciousness. He leaves one brother, Alex., at Millet and one brother in Ontario. The funeral took place Monday afternoon

Concerning Your Fall Shoes

If you would secure service and satisfaction from your shoes this Fall, it is more than ever important that you should go to a reputable dealer in whom you have confidence, and see that the maker's trade-mark is on the shoes you buy. This for the reason that leather is now scarcer than any time during the war, prices are higher, and some grades of leather are to-day almost unobtainable at any price.

Millions of pairs of shoes, millions of feet of leather, have been bought for the Nations of Europe whose stocks of footwear were entirely wiped out by the war. This has more than offset the reduction in demand for army shoes. And coming upon a supply of material which was already scarce, it has resulted in a situation which, for the time being, is serious.

Therefore, unless you have first-hand technical knowledge of shoes and leather, you must rely more closely than ever this Fall upon the reputation of the maker and of the retailer.

The retailer who has a reputation to sustain will not endanger it for the sake of a little extra profit. And no established manufacturer will stamp his trade mark upon goods which do not represent good value at a fair price.

The chances are that you do not feel any great interest in the leather market, or in the conditions which govern the manufacture and distribution of shoes. But you ARE interested—vitaly interested—in securing for yourself and your family reliable footwear at fair prices. And the value which you receive for your hard-earned dollars is inexorably determined by those same conditions which govern what we call the shoe trade. You cannot control them, any more than we can. But you CAN control your method of buying, so as to get the greatest possible value for every dollar you spend.

So we think it only just and proper to tell you, at the commencement of each season, what the conditions really are, so that you may base your buying judgment upon them.

To Buy Wisely This Fall:

FIRST: Go to a reliable dealer whose reputation you know and whose judgment you can trust; and SECOND: Make sure that the trade-mark of a manufacturer whose standing is known is stamped upon the shoes you buy.

Our booklet, "How to Buy Shoes," is gladly sent without charge to any address in Canada. Please address inquiries to our head office at Montreal.
